April is here! The weather seems to now be cooperating, and maybe we will see some signs of spring finally!

I have scheduled a make-up day for OAKS, so please let me know if you are able to attend on the 25th at 8:15a.m. for any testing that did not occur in the first round of assessments. Our second round of OAKS will be during the week of May 12-16th, and letters will go home informing your student of the tests that will need to be taken if they have not met the benchmark for the previous assessments that were taken in OAKS this year.

We have some field trips coming up that Megan and I are still planning. We are looking at going to Kingsley Field the end of April or first week in May. We also would like to take a trip to the Lava Beds and will do that later in May.

Please feel free to sit down with me and discuss plans for next year for your student. I look forward to customizing a plan that will work for each individual student enrolled at Great Basin Homeschool Center.

High School Updates

I can't believe it is April and we are nearing the end of the 2013-14 school year!

Most everyone should be well into second semester classes. If you are not, then please sit down with me to discuss second semester options.

If you have not touched base with me about graduation, please do. We will have a ceremony May 30th, and if you want to participate please make sure to talk to Debbie about ordering what you need for graduation.

Hope you are enjoying your spring term at KCC or OIT. Seniors need to touch base with me and review your transcripts to make sure you are on track for graduation.
