

ACTIVITIES HANDBOOK FOR PARENTS

2013-2015

ADOPTED BY
KLAMATH COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
JUNE 25, 2013

PREFACE

This handbook is to be considered the standard for the operation and conduct of Extra-Curricular Activity Programs in Klamath County School District. It is a requirement that those responsible for the operation and conduct of the District's Activities Programs abide by the regulations/guidelines outlined within this handbook.

ACTIVITY ADVISOR CODE OF ETHICS

The function of an activity advisor is to educate students through participation in specific activity programs. An activity program should be designed to enhance academic achievement and should never interfere with opportunities for academic success. Each student participating in an activity should be treated as though he/she were the advisor's own, emphasizing the values of honesty, integrity, and self-discipline along with assuring that the welfare of the participating student is kept uppermost at all times. Accordingly, the following guidelines for advisors and other personnel associated with the district's activity program have been adopted by Klamath County School District Board of Directors.

The advisor will sign the Klamath County School District (KCS D) Activity Handbook Advisor's Acknowledgement Form to indicate that he/she has read the contents of this handbook with a building administrator.

The advisor shall be aware that he/she has a tremendous influence, for either good or ill, on the education of the participating student and, thus, shall never place compromising integrity above the value of instilling the highest ideals of character.

The advisor shall uphold the honor and dignity of the profession. In all personal contact with participating students, parents, officials, school administrators, the state/national high school association, the media, and the public, the advisor shall strive to set an example of the highest ethical and moral conduct.

The advisor will not use derogatory language or gestures.

The advisor shall take an active role in the prevention of drug, alcohol and tobacco abuse.

The advisor will not use alcohol and tobacco products when in contact with students or when acting in a supervisory capacity.

The advisor shall promote the entire activity program of the school and direct his/her program in harmony with the total school program.

The advisor shall exert his/her influence to enhance positive relationships by working closely with booster clubs, administrators, members from other schools, and those who support activity programs.

The advisor shall respect and support contest officials. The advisor shall not indulge in conduct which would incite participating students or others against the officials. Public criticism of officials or participants is unethical.

Before and after contests, advisors should meet and exchange cordial greetings to set the correct tone for the event.

An advisor shall not exert pressure on faculty members to give participating students special consideration.

ACTIVITIES AND THE PARTICIPATING STUDENT

It is the intent that extra-curricular activities are impacted by this policy.

Both extra and co-curricular activities are intended to be educational and occur outside of the context of formal and credit-bearing courses.

The following definition shall be used when identifying extra-curricular activity programs with Klamath County School District and when determining appropriate consequences when the KCSA Activity Policy is violated:

- Extra-Curricular: Activities under this category are those being outside of the regular curriculum of a school and when academic grades are not associated when participating in the activity.

Students who choose to participate in an activity program will have the opportunity to perform at a higher skill level. The participating student will have an opportunity to work with skilled advisors in a combined effort to master higher levels of skill and performance. Further, the participating student will have the opportunity to perform before their peer group and those in neighboring communities.

Participating in an activity can lead to positive attitude development (fair conduct) in the areas of discipline, loyalty, sacrifice, and fair competition. It is the responsibility of the community, school, boosters, advisor and participating student to work to develop these qualities of fair conduct.

While not all participating students are interested in activities as a lifelong goal, all can benefit from preparation in positive attitude development in getting along with advisors, officials, activity members, student body, and community.

However, while the benefits are great and the opportunities present, a degree of responsibility lies with the participating student that is not necessarily found in the non-participant. The participating student, by the very nature of participating in activities, is put on display during contests for public criticism and evaluation. The participating student is not part of the crowd; participants do stand out. Judgments are made about the participating student, advisor, school, and community as they travel to and from contests or simply functioning in everyday routines. The advisor must see that the participating student adheres to acceptable activity rules.

The Participating Student: A student is considered to be a member of an activity once all membership requirements are complete.

- Must be clean in mind, body and dress.
- Must be considerate of other's feelings, attitudes and wishes.
- Must demonstrate positive attitudes towards self and the community.

- Must be concerned with the safety and welfare of self and of others around.
- Must be considerate of other's property and rights.
- Must be observant of the laws that govern the school, community and country.
- Must be progressing satisfactorily towards graduation. Any student participating in an OSAA sponsored activity must be making satisfactory progress towards the school's graduation requirements as per OSAA rule.

While not all participating students are going to be at precisely the same point in the development of these areas, they must be in the general area and making positive progress toward the fulfillment of each.

Students participating in any KCSD activity must maintain at least a 2.00 grade point average (GPA) and have no failing grades during both the preceding and current grading period of any scheduled meeting or activity participation. KCSD grading periods are listed below:

- End of the first six week grading period (October 21)
- End of the second six week grading period (December 2)
- End of the First Semester (determines eligibility for next semester) (February 3)
- End of the fourth six week grading period (March 31)
- End of the fifth six week grading period (May 12)
- End of the Second Semester (can determine eligibility for next semester upon review by the building administrative and advisor)

Student grades may be reviewed more frequently than the periods listed above for monitoring, however the specific periods listed will be the periods that determine academic eligibility.

Students failing to meet the academic standards at any of the above KCSD grading periods will be placed on a three week probationary period according the following:

- Week One: The student can participate in meetings and contests while being monitored by the school administration and activity advisor. Grades will be checked at the end of the first week and if all academic standards are met no other action will be taken and the student is declared eligible.
- Week Two: If the student is still not meeting KCSD academic standards at the end of the first week the student will be allowed to participate in meetings but is suspended from out of school activities for the second week of probation. Student progress will continue to be monitored by the school administration and activity advisor. Grades will be checked at the end of the second week, and if all academic standards are met no other action will be taken and the student is declared eligible.
- Week Three: If the student is still not meeting KCSD academic standards at the end of the second week, the student will be suspended from participating in both meetings and out of school activities. Student progress will continued to be monitored by the school administration and activity advisor. Grades will be checked at the end of the third week and if all academic standards are met, no other action will be taken and the student is declared eligible. If at the end of the third week the deficiency still remains, the student is declared ineligible for the remainder of the current semester.

A student may be reinstated at any point during the probationary period once all academic standards are met.

ACADEMIC ELIGIBILITY COMMITTEE

The principal of each school will appoint a committee of five members to review individual cases of academic eligibility during any KCSD grading period as previously noted. Individual cases of district academic standard waivers will be decided by a simple majority decision.

The committee will consist of a building administrator, advisor of the concerned student, academic counselor, and two staff members at large. Parents or guardians are to be notified prior to appointing the eligibility committee for the purpose of informing them of the process to be used in individual cases of eligibility. It must be made clear to all members of the eligibility committee their agreed upon roles in helping the student maintain his/her eligibility. All committee members, the student, and parents are to be kept informed of progress being made by the student. All committee members must follow through with the requirements agreed upon and assigned to them, by committee decision.

ATTENDANCE STANDARD

A student will not be permitted to participate in any meetings or out of school activities if he/she has been absent from school during any part of the school day unless a pre-arranged absence (PA) has been granted by the administration of the building. A student will not be permitted to participate in any meetings or out of school activities scheduled for a non-school day if absent for any part of the previously scheduled school day without a pre-arranged absence granted by the school administration. Students participating in any KCSD activity must maintain at least a 95% school attendance rate during both the preceding and current grading period of any scheduled meeting or activity participation.
